

Education

Binghamton University (2026-present)

MA and PhD in Comparative Literature (Philosophy, Literature, and Theory of Criticism program)

Research interests: phenomenology, logical systems, artificial intelligence, video games, disability and agency, originality and imitation

Teaching interests: existentialism, international relations, philosophy of medicine, science fiction, nationalism

Washington University in St. Louis (2021-2025)

BA in Global Studies and Philosophy, GPA: 3.91

Work Experience

Teaching Assistant - Binghamton University

August 2026 - present

- Lead weekly discussion sections, grade assignments, and meet 1-on-1 with literature students to improve their interpretive and rhetorical skills

Admissions Counselor - Washington University in St. Louis Undergraduate Admissions

July 2025 - June 2026

- Led daily presentations to prospective students and their families, highlighting student life, admissions, and financial aid
- Managed internal visitor data with a team of other admissions counselors, making both external communications and internal analysis possible by clarifying student data and keeping personal information up to date
- Fielded calls and emails from prospective students, WashU faculty members, and high schools to coordinate campus visits

Bear Ambassador - Washington University in St. Louis Undergraduate Admissions

May 2024 - July 2025

- Give regular campus tours to prospective students and their families, highlighting academic, social, and logistical realities of WashU
- Conduct interviews with prospective students to provide them the opportunity to ask more specific questions about WashU
- Co-present university information sessions with full-time staff in the admissions office to prospective students and families

Mathematics Grader - Washington University in St. Louis Mathematics Department

September 2022 - December 2023

- Familiarized myself with a variety of styles of learning among primarily first-year students taking Math 100
- Provided detailed and personalized feedback on assignments in a mastery-based grading system that values continual improvement over temporary perfection

Teaching Fellow - Breakthrough Collaborative Denver

May 2023 - August 2023

- Planned and taught six weeks of an English Literature summer course for ~20 students entering 8th grade
- Planned and taught two three-week sessions of a Music History and Appreciation elective course for students entering 7th, 8th, and 9th grade
- Supported various dance-, music-, drama-, and game-related programming for the entire Breakthrough Denver program

Events Server - Milwaukee Art Museum

May 2021 - August 2023

- Served guests at various art museum events, including weddings, work conferences, and fundraisers
- Worked with a team of other servers, bartenders, and kitchen staff to coordinate smooth guest experiences for complex and unique wedding plans

Volunteer Experience

Peer Counselor - Sexual Assault and Rape Anonymous Helpline (S.A.R.A.H.)

January 2022 - June 2025

- Served as a peer counselor on the only anonymous and 24/7 sexual assault helpline at WashU, spending over 150 hours per semester on call for 5 semesters (750 hours total) after completing a 100-hour training course
- Provided counseling to students covering topics including, but not limited to: sexual assault, rape, domestic violence, suicide, depression, abortion, birth control and emergency contraception, eating disorders, stalking, sexual and mental health
- Served in various steering positions during group membership, most recently External Facilitator, June 2024 - May 2025: led other external steering positions in communication with WashU student body, collaboration with other university and non-university organizations, recruitment for new helpline counselors, and execution of campus-wide events

Research

Slices of Lives: A Diversity of Experiences Among Immigrant Restaurateurs in Yaounde

Completed April 2024 - bit.ly/HapemanSIT2024

- Qualitative research project involving interviews with restaurateurs in Yaounde, Cameroon conducted in English and French
- Explored the connections between the cultural preservation and the economic well-being of immigrant restaurateurs

Skills

Google Docs, Slides, and Sheets • Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, and Excel • Canva • Java • Python • Languages (English, French)

References

Jacqueline Goering, Washington University in St. Louis Undergraduate Admissions • goering@wustl.edu

Nic Koziolk, WashU Philosophy Department • nkoziolk@wustl.edu